A Big Explosion.

LONDON, Eng., April 20.—An explosion occurred in the St. Helena colliery, Workington, last evening. Seventeen miners were killed and many injured.

Youthful Burglars.

TORONTO, April 20.—Last night two stores were broken into, the work having undoubtedly been performed by boys. The first place visited was the "Flags of All Nations," an entrance having been secured at the rear, where the door was forced open. A number of coats, vests and pants were carried off, the cash drawer was broken into and some postage stamps were carried away, and there were left behind a chisel and a screwdriver with which the thieves had forced the door. Entrance was secured to the store of John Shields, Yonge and Temperance streets, by forcing open the side door, but nothing of value was carried away, the thieves satisfying themselves by drinking a quantity of liquor and champagne. This forenoon two detectives gathered in nine young street arabs, all well known in police circles, and on some of them was found some of the stolen property. Their names are: Peter Harrison, James Hornsby, James Longford, Ed. Green, Wm. Harper, Jas. Hoyle, Denis Daly, John Henry, and Jas. Henderson. The majority of the boys are only a few days out of jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Mr. Charles R. Buckland has resigned his position as resident agent of the New Zealand Government and has been succeeded by Mr. R. J. Creighton, late of the Hawaiian Ministry. Mr. Buckland's resignation is due to a press of other work.

A despatch received in the city to-day reports the British schooner L. Houlett from Halifax to Victoria abandoned at sea. The crew were saved.

Alden Loomer, recently from Washington Territory, has been stricken with smallpox at Half Moon Bay.

Advices just received from Honolulu state that port has raised the quarantine against San Francisco.

In connection with the annexation by Great Britain of the islands of Christmas, Fanning and Penrhyn in the East Pacific Ocean it is stated they are to be used as coaling stations and telegraph centres whenever a cable is laid between Vancouver and New Zealand. The islands have no commercial importance being uninhabitable and valueless coral reefs.

VICTORIA, April 20.—In the House to-day a resolution was moved expressing that it was the opinion of the House that a permanent assayer should be appointed. Mr. McCulloch having resigned. The Minister of Mines replied that the office was not self-sustaining but the appointment was manifestly necessary to the mining interests of the Province. Mr. Benven moved for the report of Captain Win. Moore on the northern portion of British Columbia. The House was in committee of the whole on the assessment bill for the whole afternoon and the bill was finally reported complete.

VICTORIA, April 17.—A lively discussion took place on Mr. Bole's Sunday Bill making it unlawful to engage in manual labor, play at games, hunt, fish, run races etc., on the Sabbath day. Mr. Duck made a severe onslaught on the measure characterizing it as an effort to inflict the puritanical ideas of the hon. gentleman's constituents on the rest of the province. It was a measure of persecution although it did not propose to cut off our ears, skin us alive or burn us at the stake, it proposed if we went playing ball on Sunday or shooting or fishing to take away our property and liberty.

Mr. Robson replied to the effect that it was altogether unnecessary for the hon. gentleman to attack his Puitaz ancestors with so much foam and fury or to scoff and sneer at the religious beliefs of a portion of the community in discussing this question. Our pride was that we were a Christian nation and as our Queen said, our Christian Bible was the secret of the nation's greatness. It was not necessary to open the lids of the Bible to find grounds for Sabbath observance. It was a great universal law of creation that for the well being of man and beast there should be a relaxation from all labor on one day in seven.

Mr. Grant said that many people in the province regularly kept our Saturday as the Sabbath, who would have no objections about working on Sunday. He could not vote for preventing these people from enjoying their belief, although he might support a more modified measure. The Bill was voted down by 15 to 6; Messrs. Bole, Sculfin, Laidner, Robson, John and Anderson supporting it.

The Emperor's Condition.

BERLIN, April 20.—The Emperor's condition is much worse. It is thought he will not live a week.

The National Zeitung says: "The Emperor's new trouble is not a case of simple bronchial inflammation, but of an extension of the disease in the larynx to the bronchial tubes and thus to the lungs themselves. This new complication is the result of what occurred last week. The emperors cannot lie in its proper position and it became stopped up and the secretion from the larynx instead of finding an outlet through the canals, passed along the outside of it into the bronchial tubes, producing inflammation."

A BIG BLAZE.

A LARGE BOARDING HOUSE BURNED DOWN.

In Which Over Fifteen Lives are reported to be Lost—A Heart-Rendering Scene.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—A terrible fire broke out in the old Bethel home which was recently converted into a cheap lodging house. At the time of the fire over seventy people were in bed asleep and were not awakened until they were nearly suffocated with smoke which cut off the escape of many. Some of the boarders on being awakened jumped from windows and received internal as well as external injuries. Between fifteen and twenty people are supposed to have been lost and the ruins presents a very heart rendering scene.

This news has been guardedly conveyed to the members of the Royal family, it being intimated to them that the Emperor requires the utmost care, though for the moment there is no immediate danger. The Empress has postponed her visit on Thursday to Lauenburg and Wittenburg.

PARIS, April 20.—None of the papers regard General Boulanger's election in any other light than as a protest against the home policy of the government.

LONDON, April 19.—A brilliant reception was given at the residence of Lady Sandhurst to-night at which Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Jno. Morley, Sir Chas. Russell, Mr. Justin McCarthy and many other Liberal and Home Rule notables were present. Mr. Gladstone made a speech in which he said that the history of the last 50 years, was the history of progress, moreover it was simply the history of Liberalism. The Liberal party has progressed greatly since the last general election though they had been subjected to some disadvantage through the secession of the Unionists who had great social influence and who in his opinion were the greatest enemies of the Union. He concluded by saying that the prospects of the Liberals and Nationalists were hopeful in the extreme and increased energy is certain to triumph in the end.

Advices from China state that Li Hung Chang, Chinese premier, on behalf of his government has peremptorily demanded that the King of Corea explain why the Korean Minister to the United States presented letters of credence to President Cleveland without the intervention of the Chinese Minister, which act Li Hung Chang claims was a breach of the explicit condition upon which China permitted Corea to send envoys abroad.

Joseph Chamberlain has withdrawn from the National Liberal club, and it is expected that other Unionists will follow his example.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—It is asserted confidently to-day among some persons that Minister Phelps is to be nominated for the Chief Justiceship. It is said that the President has had Mr. Phelps' name under consideration only during the last week. A few days ago Senator Gray seemed most likely to get the nomination but the President is said to have come to the conclusion that the disparity of years between Mr. Gray and the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States was too great, Mr. Gray being only 48, younger by 20 years than most of the Supreme bench judges. Mr. Phelps is 67, those who assert that he will be nominated say that the nomination will be sent to the Senate very soon.

SCOTT ACT REVULSION.

Probably nothing which has transpired in a single day in the Province of Ontario, for many years past, (excepting a general election) has equaled in importance the vote taken on Scott Act repeal, in nine populous counties of that province, on the 19th inst. The majorities in most of these counties were unmistakably decisive. Take the County of Simcoe for instance. In that county when the Scott Act was first voted upon, it carried with about 1800 majority and now it has been repealed by 2000 majority. When it was carried and became law it was regarded by temperance men as a great triumph and as showing great advancement in the spread of temperance principles. On the other hand, there is little doubt, but liquor men will claim that the repeal of the act in so large a part of the province in one day, shows that temperance is on the wane. Now we hold that both positions are absolutely wrong, previous to the passing of the Scott Act, in these and indeed in all the counties of Ontario, the Crooks Act license system was the law which regulated the liquor business. That Act, which is probably the best license act ever placed on a Canadian Statute book, was looked upon by many liquor dealers as being far too stringent, and constant effort was being made by the licensed victuallers association, to have its restraining, safe guard clauses rescinded. This roused temperance people to have the Scott Act introduced. The temperance people felt, and very justly too, that the liquor men were asking unreasonable things of the government. This feeling was shared by very many cool reflecting people who probably never belonged to a temperance society, or on the other hand had never drank to excess in their lives. But, who recognizing the necessity of putting a curb on the men whose only object was to sell all the liquor they could, to every one they could, and at all hours both Saturday night or Sunday, no matter whether there was any bread for hungry children in the houses of the men who were spending their weeks wages in whiskey, from the time they got their pay on Saturday night till the money was all gone. All liquor dealers are not of that stamp by any means, but many were and still are. Those people of moderate views joined with the teetotalers and carried the Scott Act in a large number of counties. We hold and always have, that it was the result of the demand made by many of the liquor dealers to have the flood gates of vice opened wide, that brought about the carrying of the Scott Act, in so many counties in Canada. The people generally were willing to try almost any experiment which might check a growing evil. What do we find as the result of the experiment. We find that the honest advocate of total abstinence, as well as those who do not consider it a sin to use liquor in moderation, but wish to put a healthy check on its use, have both been disappointed in the working of the Scott Act. We do not believe there is one temperance man less now than there was when the Scott Act was carried. But the community have found the Act, an unworkable law. There seems little doubt, that it did do good in many cases and there is as little doubt that it did a great deal of harm, and on the whole was not suited to accomplish, the objects for which it was made law. It is patent to every one that this is the conclusion arrived at by temperance men and that they have cease to fight for the act, or it could not have been repealed by such large majorities. In the old provinces, they have various license systems to fall back and which come into operation wherever the Scott Act is defeated in one or more counties. The main question now affecting the people, in the Northwest so far as the late voting in Ontario is concerned, is what influence will it have in the legislation which it is expected will take place at Ottawa this session, on the liquor business in the Territories. All who know anything about Sir John Macdonald, know that the hobby of his life has been to legislate in accordance with popular sentiment, on all matters, where decided opinions have been formed by the public. The present prohibitory law as it is called with the permit tag attached is not a success here no more than the Scott Act has been in the east. Our prohibitory law was made more to protect the Indians when they were more numerous and white people fewer, than at present. And in that respect the law has worked well resulting in the prevention of evils which those alone who have witnessed the effect of whiskey on the Indians in the Northwestern States can understand.

But beyond that it has not been a success. Many of the temperance people think it has been measurably successful, but they do not know the facts. We do not wish to injure the name of our good town of Calgary, but at the same time facts are facts, and cannot be ignored. There are many places in Calgary where whiskey is dealt out as can be found in any town of its size in Ontario and there is as much whiskey drunk too. There is no revenue obtained from it and no law to regulate it. Now the question of the day is shall we continue the present unsatisfactory state of things, with all the whiskey being smuggled in, which can be sold. We think not. The country either wants a prohibitory law that can be worked or a license law, that can be enforced. For our own part we look upon local option, which both the Scott Act and the Duncan Act, really are, as a humbug. If Sir John is sufficiently posted as to the wishes of the people in the Territories to decide whether it is total prohibition or license, that is wanted, let him act accordingly. If not, then let him provide for a vote being taken in districts not smaller than the present territorial divisions of the Northwest. Let the people say whether they want license or prohibition, and on their shoulders will rest the results of their decision. There is no question before the people of the Northwest, of anything like the same importance to the people as the future of the liquor traffic. No patriot or Christian, will allow himself to be influenced in casting his vote on this great question, by either personal gain or loss.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A few extracts from the letters of Mr. Norman, the Pall Mall Gazette Commissioner who visited Calgary last winter on his trip around the world will be interesting to those who wish to know the opinion being formed of this country and its people, in England. He says: My experience throughout that no sooner have I set foot in a new town, than a dozen people turn up at the hotel, each intent on carrying me off then and there to investigate the aspect of that part of the country in which he is most interested; the mayor or some other public official sends a polite invitation to dine with him through the neighborhood, the railway places the facility and comfort of a private train at my disposal. * * * Until one has visited the Canadian or American West. Nature has only two great impressive aspects when she takes the form of sea or mountains. After a journey like this, however, the prairie has to be added to these, and ones first sight of it is in every respect as memorable as ones first glimpse of the ocean or the Alps. It is a sensation difficult if not impossible to describe. One feels oneself to be the centre of focus of a kind of indescribable vastness or emptiness, one's house or sleigh or person projects from the surface of the earth in complete solitude. There is simply nothing else but surface. * * * The trail whether it is wheel marks on the grass or sleigh marks on the snow, is lost sight of twenty yards the scene is as weird as the imagination of the Polish Jew. In Manitoba cross-horses are trained to trot 15 or 20 miles without stopping, there is nothing except the occasional appearance of a wolf or a prairie chicken to break the extraordinary monotony.

Dunbow Post Office.

The interested settler who wrote a letter to the HERALD, a little over a month ago, in reference to the establishment of a new post office at Davisburg, on the west side of High River, opposite Dunbow, has called to enquire if we have heard anything on the subject either from our member Mr. D. W. Davis, or through our Ottawa delegates who were asked to look after the matter. (We have to answer that we have not heard a word from either source yet.) This settler states that the settlers on the west side of the river have not received any mails for three weeks, this is on account of the high water preventing crossing the river in any way at present, nearly the entire population whose mails go to Dunbow, live on the west side of the river and those people should have a post office of their own, and they should get it at once. Because, as pointed out in settler's letter, it will cost the Government almost nothing to establish it, as the service could be made by the Dunbow carrier.

Calgary
The Denver of Canada.

As Denver
Is the centripetal city of Colorado.

So Calgary
Is the centripetal city of Alberta.

Eighteen years ago Denver was about the size of Calgary. Today it has a population of over 80,000.

Alberta
Is equal to Colorado in everything that will make it a great Province, and

Superior to Colorado in many natural resources.

Question
What is going to make Calgary become a great city?

Answer
1st. Its geographical position on the Canadian Pacific Railway and midway between

WINNIPEG AND VANCOUVER.
2d. The vast Mineral Wealth, consisting of Gold, Copper, Lead, Iron in the Rocky Mountains to the west of Calgary, coupled with an unlimited supply of ANTHRACITE AND BITUMINOUS COAL, which is found all through Alberta, and is already being shipped in large quantities to San Francisco, which minerals and coal will make Calgary the smelting and manufacturing CITY OF CANADA.

3d. THE FINE WATER POWER which can be obtained from the two rivers that flow through the town.

4th. Millions of acres of the most fertile land in the world have been set apart by the Canadian Government for FREE HOMES. This land has been proved capable of producing very large crops of grain and vegetables in great variety, and of the finest quality without irrigation. Through these lands flow innumerable streams of the purest water, thus making Alberta a farming country second to none in the world, of which Calgary is now and will continue to be the capital and

COMMERCIAL CENTRE.

5th. THE CLIMATE is unequalled for its temperate and healthy character in the whole Northwest, being entirely free from severe storms, cyclones, blizzards and tornadoes, and is as much superior to the climate of Minnesota, Dakota and Manitoba as they are to Iceland. The fact that horses, cattle and sheep feed and fatten on the prairie the grass in February and March new equal to eastern stall fed animals.

7th. The inexhaustible supply of Pine, Cedar, Spruce, and other valuable species of a size and quality such as never existed in the Eastern States, on the main line of Railway and banks of the rivers, to the west, which is floated in the log or brought in lumber by rail to Calgary and sold at low prices.

8th. The magnificent site of the town of Calgary, in a beautiful valley five miles long and two miles wide, with two crystal rivers 150 and 300 feet wide, flowing through it at five miles an hour, surrounded by low sloping hills on which to build private residences. In the distance looms up in state grandeur the peerless Rocky Mountains, and in the Bow river are numerous islands, granted by the government to make Parks for this new City of the West.

The town, now only four years old, has a population of 3,000. In it are solid business blocks built of native free stone. There are also churches, schools, hotels, in every way first class for the age of the place. There are two daily newspapers, and the town is lighted with electricity. In fact it possesses all the evidence of steady growth and increasing wealth.

To those who wish to make investments in Real Estate in Calgary I am prepared to sell over 1,000 of the best located lots in town at prices ranging from $30 to $1,500 each. Possessing an intimate knowledge of the growth of the Northwestern States and Territories, I came to Calgary almost at the first and being convinced of its future greatness, at once made investments. I am the oldest, largest, and most experienced Real Estate dealer in Calgary, and feel confident I can sell property to all desiring to invest capital in this rapidly rising city at prices that will pay 50 to 100 per cent. within 12 months.

TO PROTECT FARMERS.

Mr. Adam Brown M. P. for Hamilton has given notice of the following motion in the House of Commons:

Resolved, "that a special committee be appointed to inquire into the fraudulent practices which have prevailed and still prevail in various parts of the Dominion by which farmers have been and are induced to give their promissory notes and securities to a very large amount in the aggregate for seed, agricultural implements and other goods and merchandise by various false pretenses—the goods in some cases never being delivered and in other cases being comparatively worthless, the makers of such promissory notes being obliged to make payment while the perpetrators of these wrongs evade justice, and that such committee have power to send for persons, papers and records and be instructed to report what remedies exist in such cases or what further remedies should be provided."

The above move is in the right direction, but it is to be hoped that the investigation will go farther than indicated. It is well known that scoundrels are continually moving round amongst the farmers obtaining orders for stuff by the most fraudulent representations. One of the dodges resorted to has been to get some farmer of influence to look at some of the samples shown and listen to a long story about the excellence of the article, read false certificates about quality, certificates which probably applied to some other article, and then being promised a commission on sales to be made, or promised whatever he might want of the article for nothing, he is induced to sign a paper which when doctored up by filling in blanks etc., turns out to be an order for a quantity of the goods named therein and contract to pay for them at a certain price. The same rascals who thus obtain orders or the signing of contracts take good care to not put in an appearance again, but some other man in the ring comes along with the goods and the contract, the farmer must take them and pay or give his note for them, the latter is the general way of doing it. The second man professes to be the real owner of the stuff and assures the farmer that if the goods do not turn out all right he will not be called on to pay the note. The notes are invariably turned over to a third party who proceeds to collect them by process of law. Farmers are often led into ordering 100 times as much as they could possibly want of an article, even if good, under the pretence of their being made a general agent for the goods, but when the real facts are brought to light, they have ordered a large lot of stuff and agreed to pay for it.

"The Boy."

The accompanying cut is a pretty good likeness of Billy Cameron the young man who helped himself the funds of the Winnipeg branch of Union bank and skipped by the light of the moon.

Cameron is a young man not over 22 years of age, and as cool as a cucumber. Having often boasted in Winnipeg that some day he would skip out and only leave the bank and bankers behind.

Friday evening, it appears, he liquidated several outstanding accounts, paid up some trifling loans, settled his whiskey bills, and collected late creditors for a farewell "jam-boree" at Clougher's, and it was to this assemblage he made his boast of skipping with $40,000. From there he went to Webb's and hired a team and driver, strapped his goods and chattels on behind the buggy, and told the driver to head for the boundary as fast as the team could travel.

A Street Fight.

TORONTO, April 19.—Last night two colored men named James Asher and Wm. Darley were going east on King street, when they met two white men named George Holt and James Rooney. Just as they were passing by they jostled against Holt, and when he remonstrated with him they attacked him, knocking him down and kicking him. Rooney attempted to rescue his comrade, and was also knocked down, but he escaped more fortunately than Holt, who had a portion of the flesh of his face torn away by one of the colored men who bit him. Asher and Darley were arrested and brought before the magistrate to day, but as Holt was unable to leave the hospital they were remanded to Tuesday next for trial.

The Dying Kaiser.

BERLIN, April 19.—At midnight the condition of the Emperor changed for the worse, and his life is considered in danger.

LONDON, April 21.—From all accounts received here of the German Emperor's sufferings are extremely distressing. It is believed that another attack similar to that of Wednesday night and such an attack is imminent it will terminate the earthly career of Frederick.

The conference regarding the Behring Sea fishery treaty was resumed on Monday. Lord Salisbury, Baron De Stael, the Russian Ambassador and Henry White, the First Secretary of the American legation conferred for an hour on the subject.

In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day the libel suit for £500, which Mr. Peters has brought against Mr. Charles Bradlaugh, M. P., because the latter stated that Peters had received money from Lord Salisbury to promote the meetings of workmen in Trafalgar Square, came up for hearing. Lord Salisbury, on being sworn, admitted that in December, 1885, his secretary forwarded a cheque for £25 to Secretary Kelly, of the Dock Laborers Association. He denied that he gave any cheques to promote the public meetings which preceded the Trafalgar Square riots, and he also stated he did not sign any cheques in favor of Mr. Peters, which were to be used in connection with any Trafalgar Square meetings. Replying to a question from Mr. Bradlaugh Lord Salisbury said he had known Mr. Peters for the past eight years, and as far as he remembered, Messrs. Peters and Kelly had always come to him together for money for the poor. Mr. Peters deposed that he had never received any money from Lord Salisbury. Mr. Bradbury was unable to shake the testimony of Lord Salisbury. A coffee house proprietor showed that the cheque for £25 had been given to him for the purpose of providing dinners for the unemployed. It was further shown that the cheque which Lord Salisbury had given Kelly was to provide breakfasts for the starving poor of London. Mr. Bradlaugh urged the question of privilege, but was overruled by the Judge. Mr. Kelly deposed that he had disbursed the sum which Lord Salisbury had sent to him in relieving the poor and for charitable purposes, and he had not used any of it for political purposes. Mr. Bradlaugh then expressed his regret that he had charged Lord Salisbury with giving the cheques in question to promote the meetings referred to, but urged that as other cheques had been so applied, the statement was not libellous. The jury rendered a verdict giving Mr. Peters £300 damages.

An Exciting.

PARIS, April 21.—Fifteen hundred students assembled this evening and marched to the Hotel Louvre shouting, "A Bas Le Boulanger," "A bas Le Dictator." They were speedily confronted by a crowd of Boulangists who drove the students to the boulevards in considerable disorder. Loaded sticks were freely used and many severely wounded on both sides. The police appeared on the scene and quelled the disturbance.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1888

NON TREATY INDIANS.

There has been so much falsehood published in reference to these Indians that we feel it our duty to publish some reliable information which we have obtained, on the subject. We gave a point blank denial some days ago to the statement that 30 Indian had died in one place from want of food, our denial was founded on facts obtained from persons who had been in the places where these deaths were said to have occurred. With flour to sell which the Indians would not buy, though they had means to do so, saying the government was furnishing them with flour and meat and that they looked to the government to continue to do so, consequently they would not buy from traders and would take nothing but money for their furs. When we find that these false reports referred to, are still being published in such widely circulated papers as the Montreal Witness, (probably with no evil intent on their part,) though malicious in their origin, it is time the public should be undeceived in the matter. There has been no deaths from want of food, and where the 30 deaths from starvation was claimed there was only one death and that was from natural causes. That there has been some shortness of food in a few cases is not denied, but the government is not to blame for it. What inconvenience was experienced was amongst Indians not now in any treaty. Many Indians and breeds who were included in treaties have withdrawn from their treaty rights from time to time in order to participate in land grants, which were provided for halfbreeds and others. But where the shortage of food was most felt was beyond the treaty line at Lac La Biche. The Government know just what Indians there are in treaty and they provide for them, but as to those who have withdrawn from treaty and those who never were in treaty the case is different, their hunting grounds have never been interfered with and they are in the same position to support themselves that they were before the Canadian Government acquired the Northwest. Notwithstanding that the government are not under any obligation to find food for these Indians, they have not failed to generously provide for them when their real necessities could be ascertained and it was possible to get food teamed to them. The amount of outside help these Indians may need depends very largely on how successful they are in hunting and fishing, the supply of game varying very much in different years, making it utterly impossible for the government to tell in advance what food may be actually needed. This year the natural supply of food was quite under the average, and these Indians not being under the care of agents, the means of letting their probable wants be known depended on unreliable channels of communication. However, word did reach the Indian department at Ottawa, and Mr. Hayter Reed, deputy of the department at Regina, was dispatched at once to the country north of Edmonton. The Government in order to encourage farmers in the Edmonton district, had been buying what they could supply from them, and employing native freighters to haul it northward. The farmers supply did not amount to as much as was expected, some of the freighters on account of bad roads did not get what there was forwarded as soon as they should. But as soon as Mr. Reed appeared on the scene he bought right and left from the merchants and traders who had gone up with flour, etc., to sell on their own account, and hurried the stuff forward, and the wants of the Indians were at once supplied.

Now as to the lying stories about deaths &c., though Mr. Reed declined to give us the information in his possession till he had first communicated it to his government, we got it all the same from another source. Evil disposed persons whom we could name put up an infamous job to make capital for themselves and bring discredit on the government and its agents. These men who made lots of money out of the former rebellion are only too willing to breed a broil again, and in order to start the trouble concocted the diabolical story which has been so widely circulated of deaths from starvation. The charge is made against Mr. John that he made no reply to a telegram sent by the Indians, and yet it is admitted at the same time that Hayter Reed had come to the scene from Regina some 700 or 800 miles by instruction of the Government and with full power to purchase supplies for the Indians. It was certainly better to send an agent and supplies than a message. It is stated that the Indians had to kill their cattle after Mr. Reed got to the place where the trouble was. We have it on the best authority that this statement is false. It is true that certain Indians came to Mr. Reed and made the statement that some of their people had died, that they had been obliged to kill their cattle and might have to eat each other. But we have obtained proof that no Indians had died of starvation. That no cattle had been killed to save human life more than is ordinarily done all over the world. We have proof that the lying statement made to Mr. Reed by these Indians was the result of a plot got up by several white men actuated by the basest of motives, and put into the mouths of these Indians. We have proof that these same Indians, three of them voluntarily divulged the secret and voluntarily signed a written document to the effect that they had been approached by these whitemen and persuaded to become the mouthpiece through which these lies were to be made public. It is not necessary for us to comment on this dastardly attempt to blacken the government in this shameful manner, the object to be obtained is well understood, the perpetrators will be shown up in the proper time in their proper persons.

Our Choirs and Organists.

The Khan in Toronto Telegram.

If on next Sunday morning some of the ministers in this city would choose for their text, "Ye shall reverence my sanctuary," and wheeling round in their pulpits give the choir and the organist a blizzard on good breeding they would please the Christian public, but especially their own congregations. It is coming to it. The choirs are working hard for it, and the day is not many weeks away when some independent minister will preach with his back to the congregation and his face to the choir in a way that will make somebody's hair stand on end. A giggler or a whisperer in the congregation is promptly snubbed, but let the giggler or the whisperer into the choir and lo! he or she is beyond the pale of the law. A flirtation between a two-for-a-quarter baritone and a pretty alto is not calculated to help thirty souls to drink in the solemn truths which flow like a limpid stream from the pulpit rock. The choir, too often attracts more attention than the pulpit. The ladies in the congregation are tempted to study the outfits of the ladies in the choir, while the ladies in the choir criticize that guy of a bonnet a few pews from the front. It is painful to follow the different phases of a choir flirtation and then go home and not be able to tell your grandmother what the text was. Another thing. Even if you have the moral courage to resist the goings on in the choir and are thoroughly imbued with a noble sermon the organist spoils the effort by making his noble instrument roar out a piece of music that nobody can understand out the organist—it is nothing but professional conceit on his part. Why not—when the solemn benediction has been said and the worshipper turns his face for home—why should not some old familiar melody pour down through the sacred place and fill his head and heart as he leaves the door? Some old tune for instance that would bring to his memory in long and splendid array the glorious Sundays of his boyhood, with loved faces shining in the palpitating song. Of course it would not give the gentleman who is playing to the grand stand an opportunity to furnish the march of a barbarian king by which the retiring worshippers might walk, but it would be a climax to a beautiful service. The organist should be re-organized and the alleged anthems should be re-modelled as well. Let the crusade begin.

Dakota Immigrants.

Mention has been made several times about some iceclanders who are not satisfied with blizzard stricken Dakota, and having heard through friends living about Calgary of the superior kind of country and climate we have, decided to move here and move their live stock with them. When they reached the Canadian boundary they found the 90 days quarantine regulation in force. They applied at Winnipeg, but could get nothing done. They wrote to their friends here who in turn spoke to the local authorities, to see if they could bring about any measure of relief. The of the town telegraphed to the Minister of Customs at noon on Saturday and got the following reply: "Ottawa, 21st April, '88. To Calgary. Cattle must be quarantined. Settlers better leave some one to take care of cattle; regret regulations cannot be set aside. M. BOWELL." The same party who sent the telegram has written to the Minister of Customs and to our member at Ottawa, setting forth the situation as best they knew now, asking the Government to adopt some of the plans suggested or such measures as their wisdom may guide them to, to remove all hindrance as far as practicable to our getting the benefit of having these people settle about Calgary.

Church of England.

During the Bishop's recent visit to Pincher creek he arranged for the appointment of Rev. H. Havelock Smith, of Regina, as the first resident clergyman in that mission, more than half the stipend has been guaranteed by the members of the congregation. It is hoped that this congregation will be self-supporting in a year or two. Besides giving the guarantee for stipend a considerable portion of the debt on the church has been paid off since the Bishop's first visit in May last. The new incumbent will begin his ministrations on the first Sunday in May. He will assist his Lordship in the services here next Sunday, preaching at the morning service. The Bishop has arranged that Rev. E. Matheson, of Lethbridge, and Rev. J. F. Pritchard, of Battleford, shall exchange missions.

Thoroughbred Suits.

The consignment of 19 bulls received by Messrs. Fitzgerald & Ellis on Saturday morning, have been driven out to the farm of Mr. George Hamilton, we are informed that some parties are negotiating to purchase the whole lot and take them to another district, which would be a loss to this section. Farmers ought not to let this chance of getting a pure blood breeder pass.

Precaution.

Some alarm having been raised about small pox breaking out on the Blackfoot reserve, 60 miles east of Calgary, the Government have taken steps to have a large number of the Indians vaccinated at once. Sufficient vaccine matter has been forwarded to inoculate 1,500 persons, and Dr. Lindsay left here this morning for the reserve to perform the work. Although small pox has carried off more Indians than any other disease, they have some superstitious objection to being vaccinated, which may delay the doctor, otherwise he will get through in two or three days.

Creamery or Cheese Factory.

We call attention to the importance of a meeting to be held at the residence of Mr. James Bannerman on the McLeod trail, on Wednesday evening, April 25th, to devise means for starting a cheese or butter factory in that neighborhood. It is of vital importance to the people of district to get butter and cheese manufacturing commenced at once, everyone who possibly can should attend the meeting. There ought to be at least half an acre of people there.

and Whose Place It Will Be Difficult to Fill.

OTTAWA, April 23.—Hon. Thos. White, Minister of the Interior, died at 7:45 on Saturday night of pleuro pneumonia. The funeral takes place in Montreal on Tuesday afternoon. The House adjourns till Tuesday night.

It is rumored that Dewdney will be appointed to the Senate and taken into the Cabinet as Minister of the Interior.

A most affecting scene took place in the House this afternoon. Sir John rose to speak, but his voice refused to articulate. Tears flowed down his cheeks and after standing some minutes sat down, touching Langevin on the shoulder, who rose and paid a high tribute to the deceased gentleman's ability and worth. Laurier replied gracefully. Many members wept like children. A special train will take the body Montreal. Many ministers and members will go down. Services will be held at St. George's Church. Thence to Mount Royal cemetery.

Mr. White has been ill only a short time and it was not until within a couple of days of his death that his case was considered dangerous. About 9 p.m. on Saturday we received a telegram from Ottawa stating that Mr. White had passed away at 7:30 that evening. He was born at the City of Montreal in the year 1830, and was in his 58th year at the time of his death.

He received the preliminary part of his education at the high school in Montreal. He acquired a pretty thorough French education at the French college of St. Aux. He collected nine miles from Montreal. He completed his education at the University of McGill College in his native city. Mr. White became acquainted with the newspaper business at an early age, his father having been connected with the Quebec Chronicle many years ago. Soon after Mr. White had completed his education, he entered the law office of Hon. S. Smith at Cobourg, where he spent 4 years, after which he embarked in business for himself by starting the "Peterborough Review" in 1853. This sphere was not large enough for Mr. White's ambition and he with his brother Richard (now of the Montreal Gazette) acquired the Hamilton Spectator in 1855. Mr. Thomas White becoming its chief editor in 1865. During his ownership of that paper he made his first attempt to get into parliament by running for the Local House against Wm. Sexton, Esq., the reform candidate, who beat Mr. White by some two votes in 1867. In 1870 Mr. White decided to go a step higher on the journalistic ladder. When he and his brother Richard bought the Montreal Gazette from Sir Hugh Allan and his associates, Mr. White assumed the chief editorship of the Gazette, and continued honorably to fill the position till the time of his death. His ambition, however, was not confined to getting to the top rung of journalism in the chief city of the Dominion, he had set his heart on getting into Parliament, and after several attempts, in which he was defeated by very narrow majorities. He was elected to the House of Commons for Cardwell in 1878, which constituency he continued to represent unseated by death. After the retirement of Sir D. L. Macpherson in 1885, Mr. White was chosen to fill the vacancy, accepting the position of Minister of the Interior, which had been held by Sir David. The announcement of Mr. White's appointment to this important position was hailed with general satisfaction by all shades of politicians, and his accession to the ministry was viewed with more than ordinary cordial welcome.

Almost immediately after he accepted office he determined to visit the Northwest so that he might become thoroughly conversant with that part of the country, affairs of which he was about to superintend. On the 4th of September, 1885, before starting on his long trip through the boundless west, he was given a grand banquet by St. James' Club, Montreal. On his way west he was banqueted at Owen Sound, on the 30th September. He was given a grand reception at Winnipeg, Brandon, Fort Qu'Appelle, Regina, in fact at every point of importance both on and off the line of railway which he visited he was received with marked honor. During the trip he travelled over 1,200 miles by buck board and went as far as Field station by rail. On his return from Field he stopped at Calgary, where he received a most enthusiastic reception and a banquet was given in his honor. Want of space forbids us following in detail the movements of the minister as closely as we should like to do. In the summer of 1887, when he made a business trip in connection with his department, to the North-West, he remained at Calgary for a couple of days. When asked by the Liberal-Conservative Association of this town if he would accept a banquet, he declined on the ground that he desired to devote his whole time to straightening up unsettled business. It is unnecessary for us to say that Mr. White was a gentleman to the manor born. He was a good scholar, not only an able debater, but a natural orator. His knowledge of Canadian politics was only equaled by that of his old chieftain Sir John Macdonald. He leaves a wife and a large family to mourn their loss, his three sons are all filling honorable positions, the eldest who is co-editor of the Gazette, is a widower and was to have been married on the day on which his father died. Why he was cut off in the zenith of his usefulness is beyond human ken. Verily the ways of providence are past finding out. A young nation to-day mourns the loss of one of its ablest and most conscientious statesmen. In early life Mr. White was a Methodist and a most active and zealous worker in all church matters in connection with that denomination. About the time he moved to Hamilton he left the Methodist church on account of some difference in views about church government. He then joined the Church of England and was connected with it till the time of his decease. Through his entire life he was a liberal, broad-minded and consistent Christian.

Brandon Times: J. H. Secrestan, Chief Engineer of the G. N. W. C. has returned to the city. He says the company is going right ahead with the work as soon as the frost is out of the ground, which will be in a week or so now. With the opening of navigation the iron will be shipped and tracklaying will commence, so that the road will no doubt be in operation by the time specified, August 1st. No material change will be made in the line of the road.

Mr. Smith was also sold two thoroughbred shorthorns to Mr. Thomas Speers of Bradwardine, and a shorthorn cow and calf to Mr. Jasper of the same place. Mr. Watt of Griswold also bought a thoroughbred pedigree shorthorn bull from Mr. Smith. The farmers seem to want good stock and be willing to pay for it.

Jos Williams, contractor who built the Brandon court house and jail, and who claims he has never received settlement in full, is petitioning the legislature to make operative a resolution passed in the 1887 sessions of the legislature granting him leave to bring the case before the courts and recover his claims if proved just and right. This resolution was made necessary as Williams had not written orders or certificates from the architect and his case would have been lost owing to technicalities. Attorney-General Martin did not consider the resolution enough to justify him in allowing the case to proceed, hence the petition.

Railway at Dunmore.

Medicine Hat Times.
Lord Mayor and Postmaster General Higginson of Dunmore is in excellent spirits since the abolition of monopoly. In short, it would be difficult for any man to feel better on $49 per year than does this same postmaster general. Mr. Higginson is arrayed in the same old beard that graced his face years ago, and gives promise of keeping it during his unmatrimonial existence.

The Galt railway is uppermost in that great head of his, and is about the only topic upon which he will converse. A gentleman from this place interviewed Mr. Higginson a short time since, and the Mayor let himself loose. He started in by saying it was the easiest thing in the world to get up a rumor of any kind in Medicine Hat.

"Do you suppose the Galt road will build along the Seven Persons into Medicine Hat?" questioned the Mayor.

"I don't know I'm sure," answered the gentleman.

"But I noticed by the Times that such was the company's intention."

"Do you believe that paper? why, man, I would rather believe Bill Johnstone, or the Winnipeg Free Press."

"I don't know but you're right."

"Do you suppose we would build a road to Medicine Hat, draw coal up there and then back here when we already have a line running into this city of Dunmore?"

"I don't believe you would, Mr. Higginson."

"No, Sir, but I tell you what we are going to do."

Mr. Higginson had reference to the Galt road when he said "we."

"What is that?" enquired the visitor.

"We will either build from Dunmore to Ft. Assiniboine, or continue the present road from Lethbridge to Great Falls. I sent Bailey up to the mountains last week to purchase ties."

Here the conversation ended, as an old resident called for a three-cent stamp and two cents in change.

Saltin' Butter.

If fresh made butter be drained to some extent and salt added in this wet condition, we get perfect salting; for the moisture in the butter will saturate the salt and dissolve it, so that each little globule will be encased in this salt saturation, and when the butter is worked over, the surplus moisture will be pressed out, leaving the dissolved salt evenly distributed throughout the mass. Any more salt than can be dissolved in butter remains in the butter as salt crystals, and does not aid in preserving it. The film of dissolved salt about each globule seals it, so to speak, from the air, and holds it a color fast for the time. The addition of more salt than this is to cater to the taste for a salt flav or acquired by habit. As soon as one becomes accustomed to the salt solution salting, about half an ounce to the pound, he discovers that the butter flavor and the sharper salt flavor in the butter are not in degree, but of kind, and prefers the former. Butter, like buckwheat cakes should be eaten when young. The practice of making butter and keeping it for months for a "rise" is wrong. Butter never is as perfect as it is the first week; and, if possible, the production of butter should be so equalized that the consumption should keep pace with the production, and so do away with the summer over supply that loads down the market, brings low prices and consigns thousands of tons of good butter—in its day—to the grease rendering factories.—Butter Maker.

Has Some "Kicks" Coming.

Texas Live Stock Journal.

There are many slip-slop, go-easy people who declare that kicking does no good, but that is a mistake. It is the kicking man that gets the first and best of the land. Texas ranchmen are not so selfish as to want the best, but they are getting tired of eating at the second table all the time. They now demand a seat at the festive board with the rest of the world. Then let us kick for the same freight rate that is given Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, or any other stock raising country, let us kick for improved stock cars on the same terms as other sections get them; let us kick for a per cent commission for selling our stock, as thus only can we put on equality with the rest of the world; let us kick for better time on the railroads. Then, once for all, and altogether, let us kick vigorously and continuously for equal rights till we get them, and never means to make effective our political activity.

THE KICKER'S POSITION.

He Will Not be Ignored and Cannot Be Obstructed.

[Arizona Kicker.]

There is no use in attempting to disguise the fact that certain rings and factions in this gulch have for the last three months made desperate attempts to ignore the existence of the kicker. Having failed to frighten or bribe us, ostracism was their little game. We first became aware of this movement three months ago, when Mrs. Judge Gildersleeve gave her blow-out. At that time we received the following card:

All gentlemen attending this reception will be expected to wear a white shirt.

The inference was as plain as the pimples on Judge Gildersleeve's nose. They thought we'd attend with an army blanket thrown carelessly over our shoulders. The object was to let us know that Mrs. Judge Gildersleeve did not look upon us as knowing what belonged to manners. It was all right. We didn't go. As to whether the Gildersleeve ring came out ahead opinions differ. Our account of the party, headed "Gathering of the Vultures," is still going the rounds of the press. In that article we proved Judge Gildersleeve to be an embezzler and a horse thief, and we adduced positive evidence that Mrs. Judge was a broken down and played out fortune teller who had been compelled to skip from St. Louis. The Judge called at the Kicker office next day with a shotgun, but when we brought out more letters—proofs that he had served time in three prisons and that Mrs. Judge still had the workhouse cut on her hair when she arrived in Arizona—the judge did not shoot.

The Jackass Hill set next tried to make us sing small. They got mad because we weren't puffing them in every issue. Col. Docker had two shillings' worth of repairs done to his mule harness, and the Kicker didn't notice it. Mrs. Professor Frothingham turned an old silk dress top-to-bottom, and the Kicker didn't come out with a notice that she had received another $500 dress from Worth. Major Hornblower put a porcelain door knob on the front door of his abode, and the Kicker didn't come out and list it as one of the enterprises bound to bring in new settlers and boom real estate. It was therefore determined to down us. Lily De Lisle, the red-headed daughter of the one-legged county clerk, made her debut and we were not invited to the blow-out. It was an action intended to break our heart, and we promptly countered. It was on our tip that the sheriff went up about 10 o'clock that evening and gathered in two bigamists from New England, an embezzler from Ohio, and a fugitive from Chicago, all of whom were looked upon as the cream of society, and were airing their frills and scallops at the grand debut.

We are here to stay. We put up our own shanty with our own hands. We board and lodge ourselves, and we have not only got the cost of living down so fine, but are getting our white paper so cheap that we can make money on a list of thirty subscribers and three pages of dead ads. We are going to run the Kicker after our own style, whether it pleases the bigbugs of Jackass Hill or the half starved coyotes in poverty hollow. While we don't banker after invitations to euchre parties and church socials, we don't propose to take a snub from any set.

While we are willing to boom the town we don't propose to sit up nights to let the outside world know that some citizen has added a bath-tub to his dug out, or that some merchant has just received a fresh waif of bed ticking.

There have been hints thrown out by the court house ring that we are to be starved out. Try it on; gentlemen! We are now $15 ahead of the game, have paper enough on hand for ten weeks and our living expenses last week footed up only 67 cents. We came to stick.

Prince Albert Times: We are informed that Andrew, a younger son of Mr. Wm. Miller, sr., had both of his feet badly frozen this week. The weather was not very cold, but he was driving some cattle in from the creek and got his feet wet, and had to travel about four miles before he reached home.

Winnipeg Sun: One of the finest importations of thoroughbred stock ever brought into this province arrived in the city yesterday in the shape of a herd of Galway cattle, brought from Scotland for Mr. Martin, of Hope farm, Morris. This breed are noted for their hardiness, in which point they are admirably adapted for this country; at the same time combining a quality of beef that has made them famous in the best markets of Europe. Among the lot brought out by Mr. Martin there are several whose pedigrees place them at the top of the tree by those who value high breeding in stock, while their individual merit ensures them the red ticket wherever they may compete with their kind in the show rings.

Cable Notes.

LONDON, Eng., April 17.—The various National League meetings held in county Clare today in spite of the Government's proclamation displayed no noteworthy feature beyond the fact that they were simply attended. The success of the New Ross meeting, however, has surprised the Nationalists greatly. They could not have expected otherwise than that it would be proclaimed and the fact that the police and military were kept within their barracks while the meeting proceeded without molestation, has completely mystified them as to Mr. Balfour's present tactics.

In reply to an address presented to him by several members of the Mid Lothian Council of the Liberal Unionist Association, Mr. Gladstone complains that his statements are the subject of constant misrepresentation. He says his speeches have explicitly given his views.

Matthew Arnold died here to-day of heart disease.

At the time of Mr. Arnold's death he and Mrs. Arnold were awaiting the arrival of their daughter who was coming from America in the steamer Aurania. Mr. Arnold's death was the result of a sudden exertion against which he had been warned by his physician as he was subject to heart disease. The family of the deceased consists of widow, a son and 2 daughters.

Mr. Thomas Power O'Connor addressed a densely crowded meeting at Liverpool, and in the course of his remarks announced the arrest of Mr. O'Brien in Ireland. The announcement created a tremendous uproar and for a time it seemed as though the indignation of the crowd would culminate in some serious act of disorder. Quiet was finally restored, however, and Mr. O'Connor resumed his speech, paying his respects to Mr. Balfour in scathing terms. Among the epithets applied to the Irish Secretary by the indignant member of the Scotland division of Liverpool was that of "profound and unutterable cad."

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1888.

We regret to learn that it has been found necessary to remove Mrs. Alexander Robertson's foot above the ankle joint, on account of the gun shot wound she received last fall.

Mr. L. A. Sheer, manager of the above company, has arrived from Minneapolis.
Minn. He informs us that he has come for business, and will push the development of the company's limits to the north of Calgary.

It was recently reported that small pox had broken out amongst the Indians at Morely. Dr. Lindsay went up and made an examination. He found it was only chicken pox that was troubling the young red skins.

Mr. Fred. Stimpson, manager and stock holder in the Northwest Ranch Company is in town. We have not interviewed Fred, it is too near Sunday. If we were to hear him tell one of his side spitters, we could hardly get the laugh off in time to go to church on Sunday morning.

The challenge sent by the Calgary Baseball Club to the Banff club for the purpose of arranging a match game on the 24th of May, has been accepted. It now remains that the business men and citizens of Calgary in general, should enroll themselves as honorary or active members, and let the outside towns know that Calgary club is in the front ranks to stay.
The boys expect to start practicing at once.

Mission Hill.

We are informed that the side cut road down the hill leading to the mission bridge is in rather a poor condition just now through the frost going out and the earth tumbling down from the cut bank on the track. Loaded teams have great difficulty in getting up the hill.

Council Meeting.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the council will be held in the fire hall to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at 8 p. m. It has been expected that the Ottawa delegates would be on hand with a report of their visit to the Capital, and what the people are to hope for as a result. Up to the time of going to press to-day Mr.
Lucas had not returned from the east.
Mayor Shelton will be at the meeting, but whether he will make a report before Mr.
Lucas arrives, remains to be seen.

Confirmed.

Mr. James Walsh, the veteran fur buyer, returned from a trip to the north of Edmonton last evening. He confirms the facts which we publish in to-days issue in regard to the Indians and half-breeds in that north country. He says that the snow was very deep, which prevented as much fur being taken as usual. But while that contributed some to shortage of the means of living, it is not the whole or principal cause. Mr. Walsh states that the Indians who are naturally improvident were put up by white men to demand full support from the government, making the Indians believe that the government is obliged to support them in idleness, and that if they are not so supported they have a right to rebel. He gives one instance of a man at Big Lake, who had a lot of food (cache) hid, and had $20 in cash. This fellow went to the government agent and got a supply of food for himself and family, and then went and bought silk stockings for his better half with the $20.

The buildings of the Canada Granite Co., in Ottawa were burned recently.

chief of police, was sworn in yesterday.

bassador to France, arrived at Berlin yesterday.

proposed closing of the Midland station in Magistrate Bartlett, of Windsor, has suspended Chief of Police Baines because of his habits.

Mr. Dillon was taken before a Colton magistrate after his arrest and was liberated on bail.

A Fruit Grower's Society among the East Kent agriculturists is to be established on the Canadian plan.

disastrous fires in that town on Monday and two weeks previously.
